

Israel Travel Award

Overview

The Israel Travel Award is designed to financially support students who will be engaging in educational travel to Israel. Educational travel is defined as study, internship, volunteer, or research opportunities, as well as conference attendance. The Global Engagement and Education Abroad (GEEA) team at the International Center manages the Israel Travel Award.

Awards will be made in the amount of at least $1000 to cover expenses such as program fees, conference registration, transportation, room and board, and/or local excursions made in connection with the project. Travel awards are contingent upon the availability of funds.
