Looking Ahead: International Post Grad Opportunities You Can Apply For Now

Date and Time:
Wednesday, May 20, 2020 - 1:00pm to 2:00pm

Location:
Virtually, via BlueJeans (RSVP for link!)

Description: Join the International Institute, Peace Corps, and the International Center for a virtual session exploring post-grad opportunities abroad for which you can begin to apply now - including Fulbright, Luce, Peace Corps, and more! While it might seem early to apply for programs beginning in 2021, many funded programs abroad have application deadlines that fall one year in advance of departure. This is a great session for rising Seniors, rising Juniors, recent graduates and alumni! Avoid missing out on any opportunities by starting to plan now!

Note: This session will primarily cover federally-funded programs and fellowship opportunities, for which U.S. citizenship is an eligibility requirement.

RSVP here

This session is part of a new International Center education abroad summer series that will highlight future globally-oriented opportunities that can be researched (and sometimes applied for) now. We know your 2020 travel plans didn't go exactly as you had hoped, but it's not too early to begin planning for opportunities taking place in 2021! Stay tuned for announcements about future events in this series.
