Are you thinking about living in Canada? Or perhaps you are interested in working in Canada?

Whether you are planning a short trip to Canada, are interested in working Canada, or would like to live there, there are specific requirements and different programs that you should understand.

Representatives from the Canadian Consulate General will talk about these requirements and will also be happy to answer questions. These representatives are experts on this topic; this is an excellent opportunity to get accurate information and to have your questions answered.

Register here [2]