U-M Study Abroad Offices and Programs

Students who are looking for a U-M program should start with M-Compass [1]. M-Compass acts as a search engine for all UM sponsored programs for the following UM departments and colleges:

- CGIS (Center for Global and Intercultural Study)
- U-M School of Art and Design
- U-M College of Engineering
- U-M School of Kinesiology
- U-M School of Nursing
- Ross School of Business

For all U-M global opportunities please see Global Michigan [2] and the following offices:

U-M Resource Offices

U-M Center for Global and Intercultural Study (CGIS) [3]
G155 Angell Hall
435 S. State St.
734.764.4311
cgis@umich.edu [4]

The Center for Global and Intercultural Study (CGIS) provides global learning opportunities to the University of Michigan community. U-M students in all schools and colleges are welcome to apply. Most UM-awarded financial aid may be used toward program costs.

CGIS offers four programs Michigan Global Academic Programs, Global Intercultural Experience for Undergraduates, Spring/Summer Language Study, and Global Course Connections.

- Global Intercultural Experience for Undergraduates [5] (GIEU) Short-term (around 4 weeks) intercultural, summer service projects. Participation involves a year-long commitment through coursework that counts for academic credit.
- Global Course Connections [6] Students enroll for selected courses on campus in the winter or fall terms and then travel (2-4 weeks) with classmates to a field site where they can put into practice or experience what they have learned.

U-M International Center's Education Abroad Office
Resource office for U-M students in all schools and colleges. The Education Abroad Office acts as a clearinghouse of information about study opportunities through U-M, in addition to “outside” programs through other universities and organizations. Undergraduate and graduate peer advisors can share their first-hand perspective on studying in many different countries.

U-M International Institute
School of Social Work Building
1080 South University, Suite 2660
734.763.9200
iimichigan@umich.edu

International Institute and its Area Studies Centers
The Areas Studies Centers offer coursework for undergraduate and graduate degree programs, as well as lectures, workshops, performances, films, and on-campus events. Each Area Studies Center offers e-mail announcements of their events, and information on funding and job opportunities specific to that Center's region.

The International Institute offers scholarships for U-M undergraduate and graduate students. These include the prestigious Fulbright Fellowships that are available to graduating seniors, graduates and graduate students.

LSA Department-Specific Study Abroad Opportunities

Programs for Specific U-M Schools and Colleges

A. Alfred Taubman College of Architecture and Urban Planning
2150 Art and Architecture Building
2000 Bonisteel Blvd
734.936.0221

International opportunities for UM students in architecture, planning and urban design.

U-M School of Art and Design
Office of International Engagement
1004 Art & Architecture Building
734.764.0397

For U-M School of Art and Design Students only.
Global Initiatives at U-M's Ross School of Business offers global business courses, international internship programs, and semester exchange programs to U-M undergraduates from all schools and colleges. Also offers global business courses and exchange programs to MBA students.

For U-M students in the College of Engineering only. The U-M College of Engineering sponsors engineering study abroad programs in many locations worldwide for U-M engineering undergraduates and graduate students.

For U-M Public Policy Students only

For U-M School of Kinesiology Students only.

For U-M students in the Law School only. The U-M Law School offers study abroad and externship abroad programs for U-M students enrolled in the Law School. See MLawGlobal for further information.

For U-M students in the Medical School only

For U-M students in the SMTD only. Study exchange and study abroad programs through the SMTD

For U-M Public Health students only
Check with your college, school, or department to see if it offers student opportunities for study, research, internships not mentioned here. Opportunities are also available through the University of Michigan Flint and Dearborn campuses.

Global Health Programs

U-M Center for Global Health [37]
Galleria Building
1214 S. University, 2nd Floor, Suite C
734.647.5233
cghprograms@umich.edu [38]

The Center for Global Health (CGH) is an interdisciplinary office focusing on the promotion of global health and reducing healthcare inequalities. CGH offers a Student Associate program to all full-time undergrad, graduate, and medical students who are interested in global health. Benefits include opportunities for collaboration with faculty engaged in global health research, as well as access to funding to support global health activities abroad.

U-M Center for Human Growth and Development-The Minority Health and Health Disparities International Research Training (MHIRT) Program [39]
300 N. Ingalls Building, 1007SW
734.764.0679

Offers fully-funded research experiences abroad in Chile, China, Ghana, Jamaica, Mongolia, South Africa, and Uganda for undergraduates and graduate/medical students. Socially or economically disadvantaged groups are particularly encouraged to apply. Research focus is on biomedical or behavioral topics related to child health development. The application deadline for summer placements is in November.

Source URL: https://internationalcenter.umich.edu/abroad/swt/study/um-offices-and-programs

Links
[1] https://mcompass.umich.edu/
[4] mailto:cgis@umich.edu
[5]